From the Founders and Owners of Exhibitor Invites Our Written Commitment to Protect Your Email List

We have been involved in email marketing for more than 14 years, and we understand that your email list is very valuable asset. It is your property and your property alone.

We promise to:

- Keep secret and retain in confidence all email lists
- Not disclose any email lists to any third party unless such disclosure is specifically authorized in writing by you
- Never send any email communications to your list or any portion of your list (except from you, as part of the Exhibitor Invites system)
